You're your hope here. Do not warn you of a mistake, nor do they know their own policies. Customer is always crazy because there's something we can't help with. Finance Specialist in Greenville, SCGood place to get your foot in financeThis job has taught me a lot and I'm grateful, but after a while it gets extremely stressful and the lack of good management doesn't allow you to move into the company as it should. If you don't have a clear career path, this is not a long-term job for some people, and most of the time management isn't really interested in leaving or staying. Overall, it's not that bad, but expect changes to be thrown at you almost every other week. Customer Service Representative II in Greenville, SCProductive and set back workspaceThis was honestly the best job I've ever had. I've been promoted in 6 months, as there's always room for progress when you do your job. I've been blessed to be able to work from home since April because of COVID so the work-life balance has been amazing for me. Bi Developer in Greenville, SCI'm newly hired. The onboarding process has been very welcoming and the recruitment manager and HR/recruiters are very helpful and open to hear you about how they can help you in transition. The relocation package is really generous. So far, I'm really excited to join this team! Credit buyer at Tempe, AZMy position does not have an upward career pathMy position worldwide requires some financing knowledge. The ability to interact with the customer base in a business-like way is vital. Because the job orientated to the call center, there is little opportunity for progress.
